Seminar Title: Personal and Interpersonal Effectiveness

Effective organizations are really just a collection of effective teams aligned towards a compelling, inspiring and worthwhile mission. Effective teams are represented by effective individuals. The evidence is compelling – organizations that help develop the emotional intelligence of their employees are the same organizations that benefit from extraordinary business results, successful projects, excellent teams and tend to nurture their own pipeline of future leaders.

Being emotionally intelligent all begins with being personally and interpersonally effective. This seminar consists of a series of highly participative, engaging and purpose driven exercises to help Participants see how their words, attitudes and behavior affects their own level of performance and can have positive or negative affects on those around them.

Participants consistently report back that this seminar helps in a very practical way, notice how the choices and decisions they make throughout every working day can help better serve themselves, their co workers, their teams and the overall organization.

Optional Extra - Online Pre & Post Survey

We've all heard the phrase "what gets measured gets done" because it's true! We encourage you to consider investing in a pre and post seminar survey. There's a lot of talk about different types of surveys—we have found that a simple (10 question) survey that's online (less than 5mins to complete) which is voluntary and confidential provides the most accurate pulse check on the heart of the team/organization.

We offer these at $300 in total regardless of the amount of Participants. To emphasize this is a total figure, not per Participant and includes the pre and post survey (which we recommend 21 days after the seminar).
